Code of Ethics to Check Malpractices and Plagiarism in Research

Jayaraj Annapackiam College for Women is fully committed to ensure the good conduct of all research undertaken by its staff and students. The College Research Committee is responsible for all matters associated with research ethics and integrity. Their purpose is to ensure that research is conducted according to appropriate ethical and professional frameworks, obligations and standards. Research integrity and good conduct are crucial aspects of research at College. Ethics and plagiarism are the significant components in research and publication. So the College has framed a code of research ethics to check malpractices and plagiarism.

RESEARCH ETHICS POLICY

- The research work of the faculty, scholars and students in the form of journal paper / projects must go through the process of plagiarism.
- The committee takes extra measures to ensure that the work is on par with the national / international standards.
- The Research supervisors and Scholars are asked to utilize plagiarism software "plagiarismcheckerx" available, to detect plagiarism.
- The College falls in line with the rules and regulations prescribed by UGC and the affiliating University regarding plagiarism and ethics in Research
